

Profile of an International School of Iceland (ISI) Graduate

At the International School of Iceland, we strive to develop confident, creative, and respectful learners who are prepared to thrive in an ever-changing global landscape. A graduate of ISI, having completed Grade 10 and transitioning to secondary school, will embody the following qualities:

Meet Freyja: The Personable Leader With a Growth Mindset

- Academic & Linguistic Mastery: Trilingual (Icelandic, English, and Spanish). Freyja demonstrates self-efficacy in their studies, shows resilience when navigating complex academic material and advocates for their own learning needs.
- Motivation and Drive for Improvement: Accepts challenges in their classes, and perseveres even in the face of difficulty.
- Leadership & Community: Serves as a student council representative, leading peer initiatives. Freyja models active accountability by taking ownership of their decisions and actions.
- Character & Global Mindset: Personable and kind, Freyja builds strong relationships across age groups. They utilize conflict-resolution tools effectively, uphold mutual respect and maintain a supportive school culture.

Qualities of this ISI Graduate: They are resilient and persevere in academics, and value multilingualism, show responsibility, self-efficacy and leadership skills. They are personable and kind to fellow students, as well as honest, willing to take responsibility, and are a self-advocate.*

Meet Atlas: The Global Scholar With a Passion for Change

- Academic & Linguistic Mastery: Atlas combines diligence with strong organization and time-management skills, consistently challenging himself across literacy, scientific inquiry, numeracy, and languages.

- Creativity & Innovation: A critical and unconventional thinker, Atlas approaches real-world problems from unexpected angles, taking intellectual risks in his research and analysis.
- Leadership & Community: Driven by a passion for social justice, Atlas initiates service projects focused on solutions for global issues and environmental causes.
- Character & Global Mindset: Communicates in 4 languages (Icelandic, English, Danish, and Korean). Shows deep social empathy and awareness of the needs of others. He displays international-mindedness through his engagement with global literature, advocacy, and respectful dialogue across diverse perspectives.

Qualities of this ISI Graduate: He is diligent, challenges himself, a creative thinker in his academics, respectful to peers and teachers, and aware of others' needs. He is also organized, effective in time management, and demonstrates a strong sense of international-mindedness by learning about global issues, literature, movements that fight for justice, and mastering several languages.*

Meet Helga: The Resilient Free-Spirit with an Open Mind

- Academic & Linguistic Mastery: Is passionate and self-motivated in pursuing her individual personal and academic interests.
- Creativity & Innovation: Encourages creative risk-taking, discussion, and debate while collaborating with her peers on original ideas.
- Leadership & Community: Demonstrates initiative when pursuing personal and community-focused goals, bringing peers together through collaboration and shared responsibility.
- Character & Global Mindset: Comes from a bilingual home (English and Icelandic). Brianna anchors herself in personal values while remaining open-minded to contrasting beliefs and cultures. She demonstrates self-respect and perseverance in the face of obstacles.

Qualities of this ISI Graduate: She is open-minded to different ideas and beliefs, while remaining strong in her own convictions. She is empathetic, enjoys collaborating and interacting with peers, and is working towards multilingualism.*
